THE TRUTH ABOUT SPORT
IS NEVER A KNOCKALL-CHINESE TO GO AGAINST STARS

Having Accounted for Hawaiians and J. A. C.'s, Sam Hop's Charges Will Try Braney Joy Benders—Game Looks Good

Another big baseball day is planned for Saturday of this week, for Marcellino's Stars will be the bunch to try conclusions with the diamond with the famous All-Chinese team. Big Southpaw Braney Joy, who is a speed marvel, will get his iron arms in shape to do twirling honors for the Stars. One can never tell what will happen. But in Braney, Captain Albert Akana's company will meet Honolulu's premier slasher. There is nothing that suits Braney so much as to trim Trainer Sam Hop's pet, who, since their return from the States, now have a record of three straight victories to their credit.

Captain Akana has not definitely decided which of his three pitchers will be selected to oppose Braney. He will, however, announce his battery after the practice this evening. The veteran Apau Kan, who has already won the two games he pitched, will probably be given a rest. Apau certainly has speed galore and practically scored two shutouts against the Hawaiians and also against Uncle Sam's troops at Schofield Barracks. It so happened that at each of the games, there was a freak play which resulted in a run for the opposing team. In the Hawaii game, Bill Deha was allowed to walk home on a play which did not turn out to be a balk. In the game against the soldiers, Deha was tagged off third base only to be called safe at home.

"Handsome" Luck Yee, the eight-year-old youngster, who has developed into a whirlwind while away, will probably oppose Braney Joy. It is interesting to relate that Luck Yee and his brother, Kan Yee, were playing behind the fence at the old League grounds when Braney was shooting his curves to the hated Eke eight years ago.

On account of the shortness of day, the game between the All-Chinese and the Stars on Saturday will be called at three o'clock. The seat sale will be placed at H. H. Hall & Son.

BASKET GAME
GOES TO PUNAHOU

The first basketball game of the season was played yesterday afternoon at McKinley between Punahou and McKinley, and was won by Punahou with a score of 12-9. Both teams played rather slow ball in the first half. Many open places were left and consequently the scoring was large. In the second half the teams picked up, and the playing was much better. The game by scores is as follows: First Half.

Louise Robinson made the first score for McKinley by throwing a basket from a foul. Score 1-0. Ruth Score 1-2. Violet Lucas throws basket for McKinley. Score 2-0. Mele Williams throws three baskets in succession for Punahou. Score 3-2. Violet Lucas throws two baskets in succession from fouls for McKinley. Score 4-2. Louise Robinson throws basket for McKinley. Score 5-2.

Second Half.

Ruth Soper throws two baskets for Punahou. Score 12-7. Louise Robinson throws last basket for McKinley. Score 12-9.

Geraldine Berg, a Punahou guard, sprained her ankle in the second half. She was replaced by Violet Austin.

The line-up of the two teams was as follows:

Punahou—Elizabeth Low, (captain), Marie McVick, centers; Mele Williams, Ruth Soper, forwards; Violet Kamopili, Geraldine Berg and Violet Rualin, guards.

McKinley—Margaret McCarthy, Rosie Holt, centers; Louise Robinson, Violet Lucas, forwards; Virginia McCarthy, Psyche Berry, guards.

The officials were: Miss Olson, referee; and Mr. O. P. Soares, linesman.

The next game of the season is to be played on November 15, at Punahou between Punahou and the Priory. Both Punahou and the Priory have fine teams and it is expected that the game will be a good one.

America won third place in the international balloon race for the James Gordon Bennett trophy, which recently took place in Germany.

PUNAHOU THIRDS WIN
GAME FROM H. S. F. B.
BY A SCORE OF 21 TO 0

For the third time this season, a Honolulu School for Boys eleven has been defeated, and this time by the Punahou third team by a score of twenty-one to nil. The game was played on Alexander Field yesterday afternoon, and although the Honolulu eleven put up a good fight, it was no match for the well-coached Pun third team.

For the Puns, Ballentyne, Lindley, Farrington and Mott-Smith were easily the stars, and Norrie, Reid and Nakalana did good work for the Honolulu School. Lindley, for the Puns, made one touchdown, and Ballentyne made two. Following is the lineup:

Puns—H. S. F. B.

Winger—RE. Fredericks

Tackle—RT. Ah Chuck

Brown—RG. Soong

Mott—C. Morse

Cooke—LG. May

Von Tempky—LT. Potter

E. Tuttle—LE. Kukuana

Farrington—QB. Reid

Ballentyne—RH. Nakalana

Mott-Smith—LH. Norrie

Lindley—FB. Kawai Lun

Score, Punahou 21, Honolulu School 0.

Touchdowns, Lindley 1, Ballentyne 2.

Goals, Mott-Smith 2.

SOCCER AND SHOOTING

The Kamehameha boys are well along with their soccer series, and from the results so far obtained, the teams seem very evenly matched. There are six full teams, each company having a first and a second.

The first team games, and their scores up-to-date is as follows:

Company A 1; Company B 1.

Company B 0; Company C 0.

Company A 1; Company C 1.

The results of the second team games are as follows:

Company A 1; Company C 0.

Company A 1; Company C 1.

Company B 2; Company C 0.

Company A 0; Company C 0.

Company A 1; Company B 0.

The second teams of Company B and C play again this afternoon. Company B has played two games and lost both but they have been very close games and the result of today's game is very apt to be different.

Each game counts two points for the winning team, and in the games each team gets one point. It is not possible to play off the games as the athletic schedule at Kamehameha this year is being followed very closely and no arrangements for tie games has been made in it. The entire schedule would be thrown off if time was taken to play off the ties.

The standings of the Companies in the soccer series is as follows: Company A, eight points; Company C, five points; and Company B, three points.

The Kam cadets are also doing rifle work and the gallery shooting match has just begun. Three boys from each Company have completed their shooting. Their records show a lack of practice, but this is natural as only a limited time has been allowed for preliminary work but their marksmanship is very good considering.

The best record in the standing shoot was, muller. The best in the prone shooting was made by McKinley. The best average record in both standing and prone shooting was made by Naphoo and his total score was the scores of Muller and Makinua, each of the three having a score of 116.

Throwing out the lowest scores from each company, their standing in shooting is as follows:

Company C, 329; Company A, 322; Company B, 311.

The individual match for the best shot in Kamehameha is to be held tomorrow. Considerable preparation has been made for this match and some new records are expected.

MILLER HUGGINS MAY BE CARDINALS MANAGER.

ST. LOUIS—Miller Huggins, second baseman of the St. Louis National, had agreed to confer with the club management with a view to assuming charge in place of Roger Bresnahan, recently deceased.

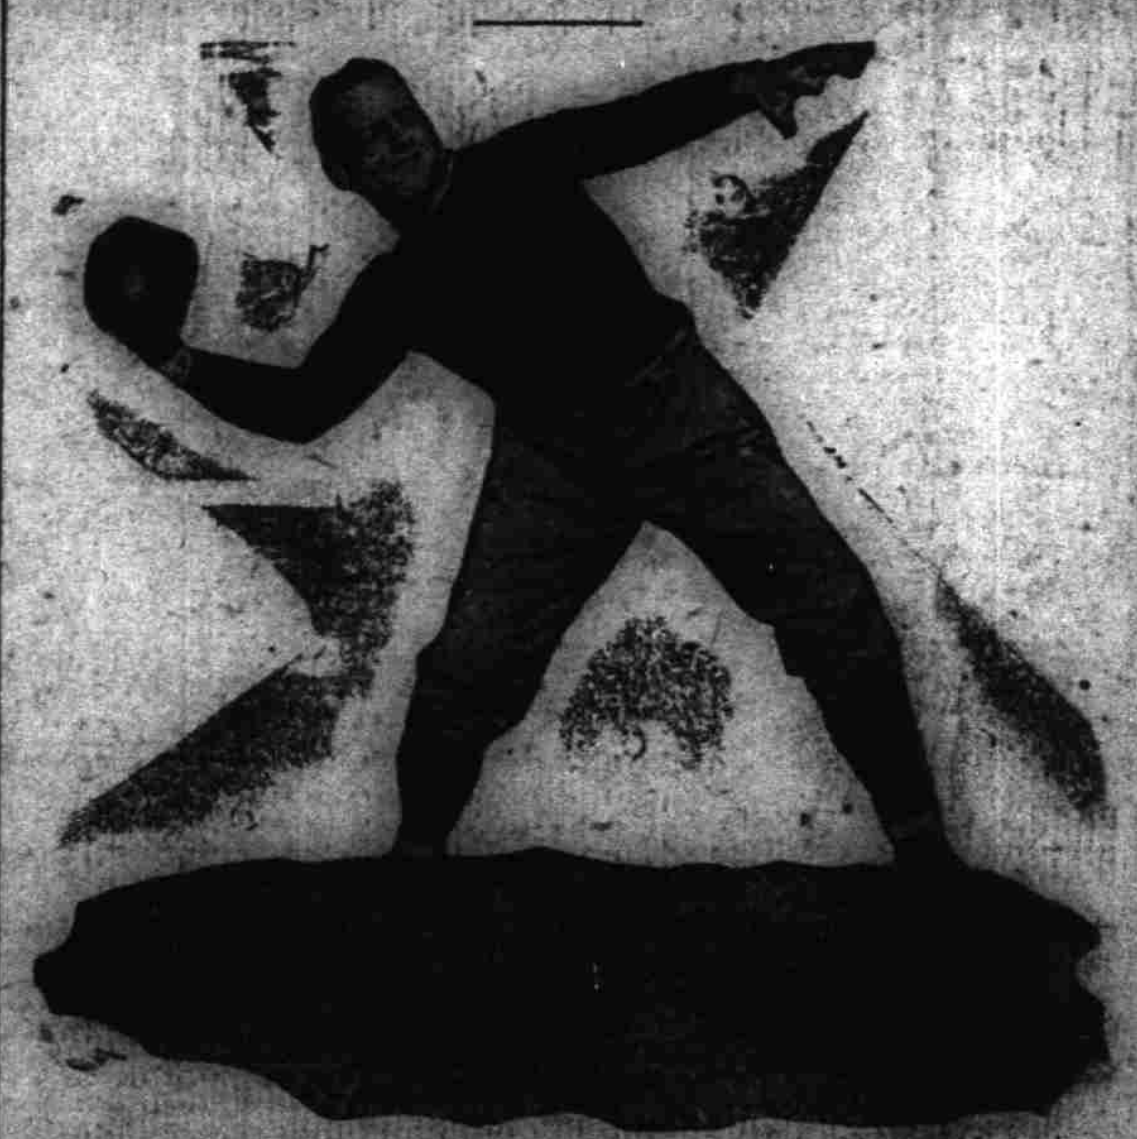

It is not known what offer will be made, but as Huggins has been tendered the management of the Cincinnati club at a salary of $7500, it is expected the local owners will increase that offer.

Bresnahan received $10,000 and had a contract calling for ten per cent of the club's profits.

100-DAY RACE MEET IN MEXICO TO START SOON.

EL PASO (Tex.)—Colonel M. J. Win, general manager of the Juarez Jockey Club, is here from Louisville, Ky., to perfect arrangements for the one hundred days of racing to begin on Thanksgiving day at Juarez, Mexico. He states that fifteen cars of horses are coming here from Louisiana and there are to be at least six races a day. Stakes will close next Thursday.

BOMEISLER OF YALE UNLUCKY

Douglas Bomeisler, Yale's star end, big end, shoulder, is said to be in such condition that he probably will be unable to play in one or two of the big games.

Bench Manager Sees Too Many
Bone Head Plays Says Clarke

"I'm glad I inaugurated my baseball managerial career as a playing manager," said Fred Clarke, leader of the Pittsburgh team just before the close of the season, "because I doubt very much if I would ever have got off successfully as a bench manager."

"Although it may not be apparent to the spectators in the stand, a big league leader in uniform playing a regular position on the field has a tremendous advantage over the man who is running a team from the bench."

"I managed the Pittsburgh team from left field for twelve years, and during that time the club was never out of the first division. We also won a few pennants, captured one world's series from Detroit and last a world's series to Jimmy Collins' Boston Americans."

"This year I felt that I was due to show up and bench myself. I thought it would be just as easy to manage the team from the bench, but it hasn't proved so. The way of it is this:

"Bench managers see too much. That may seem an absurd statement, but it's a fact nevertheless. Bench leaders are always 'hawling' the men for 'bonehead' plays. I felt myself doing it this year twice as hard as I ever did when in the game. A player who is in the game every day can't help pulling a Barry now and then. He realizes his mistake, sometimes when it's too late to put on the brakes. Your average bench manager will never condone an 'ivory stunt,' whereas the playing manager knows that he makes 'em himself occasionally and is more apt to excuse a player guilty of an error of omission. That's why I say a bench manager sees too much sometimes."

"Ball players are as temperamental as grand opera singers. The least thing will upset 'em, make 'em sulk in their tents, chuck it up and play indifferently. The men have to be handled with gloves, some have to be driven, others require coaxing."

"Clarke is one of the greatest batters the game ever produced."

"Who was the greatest pitcher you ever batted against?" was a question put to Sir Frederick.

"Rube Waddell," replied Clarke. "He had more speed than any pitcher I've ever faced. That goes for 'em all, from Amos Rusie down, and big Amos was some pitcher. Contrary to the general impression, Rusie was not a speed merchant. I know a dozen big leaguers of Rusie's day who had more speed than Amos. The Indiana giants' forte was his curve ball."

"I've never batted against Walter Johnson or Joe Wood. They tell me that Johnson is a cannon ball pitcher, and Wood runs Walter's close second for the fast ball championship of the first pitchers in the National league. Did you ever watch Hendrix of the Pittsburgh team? Few twirlers in the National can shoot a ball over the pan faster than Hendrix."

Later Westergaard came back and held the champion to a draw in a time limit match with the toe hold barred, and Westergaard is a bigger and a stronger man than Gotch.

A number of wrestling authorities are of the opinion that the wrestling rules should be revised—that the toe hold and several other things should be eliminated.

Emil Klank, manager for Frank Gotch, world's champion, believed that is the game and not theories that should be revised, or, rather, reformed. One can stand for Klank's argument, but really can't see why the toe hold or anything else should be barred from wrestling. The game is necessarily rough. Take away the toe hold, and then we will have the leg hold, the hammerlock and several other things that are just as tough. The argument in favor of eliminating the toe hold is advanced, according to Klank, merely because it is the champion's favorite way of beating his opponents and the public always likes to see the downfall of a champion.

In his match with Westergaard in Kansas recently Gotch worked with his favorite hold and threw Westergaard twice inside of fifteen minutes. It is true that the champion has won a great number of his most important matches by the use of the toe hold, but it is equally true that he also has defeated many high class men without ever resorting to those tactics. Gotch does considerable bluffing with the toe hold. In his match with Mahmut in Chicago the champion continually gazed at the Turk's feet, and when Mahmut began worrying about his pedic extremities the champion grabbed him around the waist and slammed him on the mat. Mahmut was dumped in a hurry simply because he was paying too much attention to his feet. The same applied to Zbyzco. The Pole worried himself frantic before the match trying to develop an antidote for the toe hold, and when he started out in the match he forgot everything else.

Westergaard, however, has felt the toe hold and its deadly work. The champion threw Jess with the foot twister and it was a month afterward before the Des Moines man could get around without the aid of a cane.

SECOND POLO GAME.

The second game of polo between the All-Hawaii team, and the Fifth Cavalry four, is being played at Schofield Barracks this afternoon. It is possibly the last time that the army players will be seen in action, as the regiment is due to leave for the mainland soon after the first of the year, and as there will be no opportunity for outside games after today.

The All-Hawaii will leave for California late in January, and will go through a six weeks' tournament campaign at Coronado, ending with the annual championship tournament. Great things are expected from this team, which will be composed of Arthur Rice No. 1, Harold Castle No. 2, Walter Dillingham No. 3, and Frank Baldwin back. In the first game against the Cavalry last Saturday, the All-Hawaii won 11 to 1, and as the army men are to be reckoned with, even when out of condition and practice, the result is most encouraging to the locals.

The All-Hawaii should win again today, but the game is apt to be closer, as the Cavalrymen played way below form on their last appearance.

MORE PRIZES FOR
Y' BOWLING LEAGUE

Cherries 12 0 1,000
Expanders 6 6 500
Rufflers 5 7 416
Splitters 5 7 416
Dark Horses 4 8 323
Breakers 4 8 323

Those Cherries are certainly some fruit. Last night the proved anything but easy picking. The Rollers being up and at them for three games, and being unable to connect with the target, and of the score in any of them, that it was a close thing in the first and second strings.

Rollers of the Y' League have something to work for from now on. At the end of the schedule, for a long time for who prefer to remain modest. In the background, has unnoticed through Manager Wisdom that he will give individual trophies to every member of the winning team, besides putting up prizes for high score, also average, and the most double centuries rolled in tournament games. This is a pretty broad gauge offer, and should do a lot toward keeping up interest in the series. The glory of winning comes first, of course, but it is pleasant to have a souvenir of the win as well. In this case, the donor has made it plain that the prizes will be well worth having, so something pretty classy in the way of a trophy can be expected by the fortunate ones.

Last night's scores:

Cherries 220 145 153 534
Raseman 148 129 157 534

WORLD'S SERIES
NOT BRILLIANT

Any one who expected to see a high class of base ball in the recent world's series was disappointed, for the artistic end of the game was hardly up to the major league standard, though there were times when the playing was brilliant, writes J. S. Grillo, sporting editor of the Washington Star. There is no question that more real good base ball was seen on the local grounds during nearly any week of the season than any of the eight games between Boston and New York furnished. Ball players seem to be handicapped by the fact that they have financial interests in such a series. They dare not take the chances they would ordinarily and they do not display the same confidence they would in ordinary games.

One would naturally suppose that when two championship teams clash that there would be a display of scientific base ball, such as one reads about in the magazines. But this was absent entirely, and nothing but a straightaway game as taught by the old school was furnished by the Giants and Red Sox. For instance, there was not a single successful effort at the hit and run play, though it was attempted on numerous occasions, while not a single play was pulled off which was in the least out of the ordinary. There is no question that if the two world's series contenders were to play an exhibition game with nothing at stake, they would give a better performance than they did in the world's series. But the games were most interesting for all that, because they were hard fought, and furnished close scores. This, be it said, barring very few exceptions, the pitching was of high caliber or the hitting rather weak, just as you please.

"I had all of eighteen splits,"—Jyson.

"Team work is what does it"—Williams.

"Three straight from the leaders"—Edgecomb (Expander).

The Rollers started off strong but the Cherries went one better.

The Sherries still have 1,000 per cent but they meet the Expanders on Friday.

"I can always get the two, but I blow every time there are three of them"—Schmidt.

Roberts had both high average and high score for the losers 167 and 205 respectively.

Raseman a young bowler who is improving very much lately had both high average and high score for the winners 179 and 220 respectively.

AVERAGES OF OAHU LEAGUE GIVE SOME INTERESTING COMPARISONS

Oahu League averages for the full times. Gurney led the league for the season's play have just been issued first half, and his fine work early in the season is what pulled him up on batting percentages are divided into the grand average. On the other two lists, composed of players who have taken part in ten or more games, and those who have played from five to nine games. It speaks well for the regulars of the league that two of the regulars, who had played more than ten games, had higher figures than the man at the head of the shorter list.

Harney Joy takes off premier honors for the season, for although he is two points behind Hampton, of the J. A. C.'s, he played in 17 games, while the latter only performed 11 either season.

The Portuguese have a clean lead in club fielding, while the Stars have led well enough to lead the league, but not quite well enough to lead while the latter only performed 11 either season.
